

BUSINESS COMMUNICATION PLAN

RMIT Library Services | Le Phuong Dung Hoang
Supervisor: Jessica Dickson

WHY THIS CAMPAIGN MATTERS?

International students feel overwhelmed by academic demands and isolation.

- Library support exists but is underused.
- Current comms are too formal & info-heavy.
- Focus: Clarity, Emotional Support & Accessibility.

SITUATION ANALYSIS

INFORMATION OVERLOAD

Students face massive email fatigue and formal academic jargon that feels disconnected.

PEER RELIANCE

International students prioritize advice from friends over official university workshops.

CHANNEL GAP

Formal RMIT channels are ignored; students crave visual, social-first communication (TikTok/IG).

RESEARCH METHODS & INSIGHTS

STUDENT VOICES:

“The booking system for study rooms is confusing... sometimes it shows available but it's already taken.”

“The website has too much information — I don't know where to start when looking for something specific.”

“I didn't know peer mentoring was free until my friend told me. It should be promoted more.”

TARGET AUDIENCE MAPPING

PRIMARY AUDIENCE

International Students

Focusing on those in their first year who are navigating a new academic culture and seeking reliable, approachable support systems.

SECONDARY AUDIENCE

- > Academic Staff: Influencers who refer students to library services.
- > Peer Mentors: The human face of the library's support network.
- > Student Associations: Key partners for social-first communication reach.

Strategy: Build a multi-layered ecosystem where secondary audiences advocate for library services to the primary group.
